

F&B SEPTEMBER 2017 TRIP

Tour around Wildbase Hospital, Massey University

- Date to be announced. (it will be towards the end of September)
- Time: 3.30 p.m
- To register your interest, please email F&B Manawatu at Manawatu.branch@forestandbird.org.nz giving your name, number of people and your contact phone number.
- The trip is limited to 12 people and if there is enough interest, we will arrange another trip in October.

Wildbase resident Veterinarian Megan Jolly and supervisor wildlife technician Pauline Nijman treating the kiwi.

A feisty brown kiwi, dubbed Albion, from Taranaki was released back into the wild over the weekend after a month-long stay in Massey University's Veterinary Teaching Hospital, Wildbase.

The adult female has been under the care of the Wildbase veterinary team for the last four weeks after she was found caught in a possum trap.